

Nordic Network for Research in Biomedical Law
Workshop for PhD students and others - January 12-13, 2009
Faculty of Law, University of Bergen

Programme

Overall theme of the workshop:
Legal argumentation and interdisciplinarity in the field of biomedical law

Monday, January 12

11.00-12.00:

Welcome, opening of the workshop, introduction of the speakers and participants

12.00-13.00: Lunch

13.00-14.30:

Research fellow, Dr. Robin Pierce, Novel Tech Ethics, Department of Bioethics, Dalhousie University, Canada: "Challenges of interdisciplinarity in biomedical research"

14.30-15.00: Coffee and tea

15.00-17.00:

Presentations and discussions of doctoral students own projects – in the following order:

Line Bune Pedersen

Thomas Deutch

Sigmund Simonsen

Ewa Axelsson

Each participant is asked to give a 15 minutes presentation. After each presentation there will be time for discussion (15 min)

19.00: Dinner in Bergen city

Tuesday, January 13

09.00-10.30:

Assistant professor, PhD Janne Rothmar Herrmann, Faculty of law, University of Copenhagen: "Biolaw: Methodology, legal argumentation and interdisciplinarity"

10.30-11.00: Coffee and tea

11.00-13.00:

Presentations and discussions of doctoral students own projects – in the following order:

Amina Agovic
Nina Mår
Matti Urho
Ulrika Sandén

Each participant is asked to give a 15 minutes presentation. After each presentation there will be time for discussion (15 min)

13.00-14.00: Lunch

14.00-15.00:

Concluding observations, advice for future work (Robin Pierce and Janne Rothmar Herrmann are invited to give a 5 min sum up each), plans for future workshops